House Work

Seems easy to a man, but there is a great deal of lifting and reaching to do; a great many trips up and down stairs to make in the course of a day's house work. It's hard where a woman is well. For a woman suffering with some form of "female trouble," it is a daily torment. There are thousands of such women struggling along, day by day, in increasing misery. There are other thousands who have found a complete cure of their disease in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stops debilitating drains, cures irregularity, heals inflammation and ulceration, nourishes the nerves, and gives vitality and vigor. It makes weak women strong, and sick women well. It contains no opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"For a number of months I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowan, of 1212 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies, but none seemed to do me any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worst case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to you for help. I received a very encouraging reply, and commenced treatment at once. I had not used your 'Favorite Prescription' a week before I began to feel better, and, as it continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for a book in paper covers, or 31 stamps in cloth, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE RACE PROBLEM.

Dr. Martin P. Scott, of Washington, formerly of Fauquier county, Va., has written a letter in answer to Col. Mosby's paper, "Dawn of the Real South." He says Col. Mosby sets forth the opinion that the negroes are "certain to be absorbed by immigration, and in this engulfment they will disappear." He says: "This is the natural and wisest solution of what we now call the race problem."

Col. Mosby is not alone in his views as to the wisest and natural solution of the race problem. Wendell Phillips left his views, as follows:

"Remember this, the youngest of you, that on the Fourth day of July, 1868, you heard a man say that, in the light of all history, in virtue of every page he ever read, he was an amalgamationist to the utmost extent. I have no hope for the future, as this country has no past, but in that sublime mingling of the races which is God's own method of civilizing and elevating the world."

Bishop Gilbert Haven entertains similar views.—He is recorded to have said:

"We shall live to see Helen's beauty in a brow of Egypt. We shall say, what a rich complexion is that brown skin. We shall be attracted to this hue because it is one of God's creations, and a beautiful one, too; because it is the favor of the human race; because chiefly, we have most wickedly loathed and scorned it. This law is the grand underpinning of all marriage. Amalgamation is God's word declaring the oneness of man, and ordaining its universal recognition."—National Sermons.

Canon Rawlinson says:

It seems that amalgamation is the true remedy for the presence of negroes in the United States, and ultimate absorption of the black race into the white, the end to be desired and aimed at.

In regard to the ultimate amalgamation of the two races, if something be done to end this commingling of black and white, I have little doubt; but the wisdom of it is quite another thing. If the object is alone to elevate the negro, that is the way, and the only way to do it, but such a remedy will as certainly lower and degrade the white race. But what of the civilization that it alone has created? Amalgamation of the whites and negroes of the South would produce the meanest race of people on this planet. It would set us back to the time when Cain fled east of Eden, married some dark maiden, and built a city. The African is nearly at the bottom of the scale of human races, while our Aryan white is at the top.

The African has, we know, lived during nearly 5,000 years on one of the finest continents of our planet. He has left no greater sign than the quadrumanous, among which he has lived. Had he been blotted out of existence the world would have been the better, for he has turned every race with which he has come in relation. He has ruined Africa, and, laissez faire, he will ruin the United States.

Von Tschudi, a noted scientist, speaking of the mixed races of South America, says:

As a general rule it may be fairly said that they unite in themselves all the faults without any of the virtues of their progenitors. As men they are generally inferior to the pure races, and as members of society they are the worst class of citizens.—Travelers in Peru.

Dr. Kneeland, of Boston, has given a horrid picture of miscegenation in that city—disseminated, mongrel set. The colored population is more intelligent than the negro in proportion of the degree of white blood. In other respects, they are inferior. The head is the chief structure of man. Agassiz has said that the brain of the negro develops only to the size of the European boy of twelve years. Also that in certain respects it resembles the brain of the orang-outang.

Miscegenation with the negro will give us a nation of Grikas, a tribe of South Africa, resulting from a mixture of Boers and Hottentots. The negro has done nothing toward the advancement of civilization during a life of 5,000 years.

What has the Aryan race accomplished? Well, read:

With the Aryan race has originated everything that is highest in science, in art, in law, in politics, and in mechanical inventions. In their hands the present moment lies the order of the social world, and to them its progress is committed.—Huxley.

Would you substitute for such a race a mongrel set of Grikas?

The negro problem must be considered, not from the point of view of what the negro ought to be, but what he can be. This race problem is one of the most difficult with which we have to deal. It should be considered anatomically, physiologically, psychologically, and historically.

I am satisfied that if the colored will thus consider it he will agree with me that the very worst solution will be the amalgamation of the two races.

The great Aryan race must not be sacrificed to the negro.

Col. Mosby in reply has written a letter in which he says: A few days ago in New York a reporter for Leslie's Weekly asked my opinion about the prospects and industrial condition of the South, and I replied that the South was a new and undeveloped country, and that I thought the race problem there would be solved by immigration. I said nothing about amalgamation. That is a species created by Dr. Scott's imagination. He affirms and I deny that a process of amalgamation of the races is now going on. With no desire to raise an issue with Dr. Scott on an ethnical point, I must say that the descendants of Pocahontas will never admit the correctness of his theory of the degeneracy that results from a mixture of races. While I am something of an optimist, he takes a pessimist's view of the situation, and proposes no remedy for the evil. It does a patient no good for a doctor to tell him how sick he is if he has no medicine to cure him. Diogenes may have been happy in his tub, but he suggested nothing for the happiness of mankind. There are many negroes in California, Ohio, and all the Northern States; but they have no race problem, although there is no amalgamation, simply because the negro population is an insignificant minority in the North and soon will be in the South.

A Testimonial From Old England.
"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well. It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of steamers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare a Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including the spraying tube, 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.
